Compulsory Group Personal Accident Scheme for Clubs 2023/2024

The Compulsory Group Personal Accident Scheme for Clubs is arranged by the Irish Rugby Football Union to provide fixed benefits for death or serious injury following accidents incurred whilst playing or officially training for rugby.

- The Scheme is funded by an Insurance Policy, arranged on behalf of the Irish Rugby Football Union by their Insurance Brokers, Aon. The Policy is issued by Aviva Insurance Ltd.
- The premium charged by Insurers responds directly to the amount of claims. This premium is partly subsidised and is then charged by the Irish Rugby Football Union to the Clubs on the basis of the numbers of teams.
- There is no legal obligation on the Irish Rugby Football Union to provide insurance cover. Risk is an inherent factor in sport, as in life. When players voluntarily take part in games, they accept the risks that such participation may bring.
- The Compulsory Insurance Scheme does not seek to compensate fully for injury. Its purpose is to provide a minimum level of cover and ultimate responsibility lies with the individual player to ensure he/she is fully covered in accordance with his/her specific needs. Additional voluntary Top-Up cover is available directly from the Irish Rugby Football Union's Insurance Brokers, Aon.

Advice to Members

The benefit provided by the IRFU scheme is substantially greater than that provided by other rugby unions or by other sports bodies. However, it is not intended that the benefit should compensate fully for serious injury. So that there is no misunderstanding, the Union requests the clubs to advise each member of:

1. The cover provided by this compulsory scheme
2. The availability of optional extra cover which can be purchased by the club or by individuals and
3. The responsibility of each member to make sure that he/she is adequately covered for the consequences of serious injury

Optional Cover

Additional cover is available from Aon for clubs or individuals. A brochure is enclosed setting out details of the options and the premium cost for clubs. Costs for individuals can be obtained direct from Aon.

The Irish Rugby Football Union strongly recommends that clubs or individual players purchase additional cover.

Additional Brochures or Advice

Further copies of these brochures are available on request from Aon who will also provide any advice required.
