

Irish Rugby Football Union

Optional Top-Up Covers for Clubs 2023/2024

As Insurance Brokers for the Irish Rugby Football Union, Aon have already arranged Compulsory Group Personal Accident cover for Clubs in respect of fixed amounts following death or serious injury.

- The benefits, which are payable following an accident are:

a) Death	€500,000
b) Total loss by physical severance or total and permanent irrecoverable loss of use of both lower limbs and both upper limbs	€1,500,000
c) Loss of two or more Limbs or Loss of both Eyes or one of each	€500,000
d) Loss of Limb or Loss of Eye	€250,000
e) Permanent total disablement (As defined in the policy document)	€650,000

- The Irish Rugby Football Union have already written to you setting out details of this cover and asking you to complete and return the Application Form with appropriate premium to your Branch.
- The Irish Rugby Football Union stress that the cover provided by the Compulsory Scheme is minimum cover only and they recommend that Clubs should purchase additional cover themselves, or ask their players to do so. For example, whilst the current Compulsory Cover is far greater than the cover provided by any other sporting body, no one could accept that this would be sufficient to compensate a seriously injured player.

Important

- If you receive this brochure but are no longer involved within your Club in the administration of such matters, please pass it to your successor.
- Please do not ignore these additional benefits. Our experience over the past ten years has shown that, on average, there are likely to be a minimum of two full benefit claims each year. Whilst your Club and your players may have been fortunate not to experience such accidents first-hand, we would ask you, and your Committee, to carefully consider the consequence of such an accident.
- Even if your Club decides not to purchase additional benefits, please inform your members of your decision and encourage them to purchase additional cover as individuals. Aon will be glad to advise on this.
